

The AI opportunity for law firms

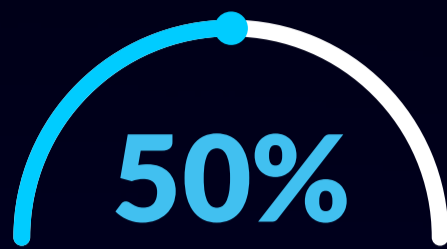

What does the future of AI look like, how is the legal sector embracing it, and what will it mean for your firm?

$2.3 billion

by  2027

the global legal AI software market's projected value

Source: Global Industry Analysts of surveyed lawyers were already using AI in 2021

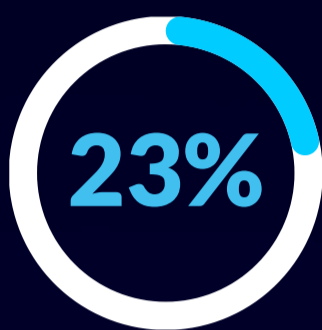

Source: Oxford University

Paralegal

Time that could be automated with AI

Source: McKinsey

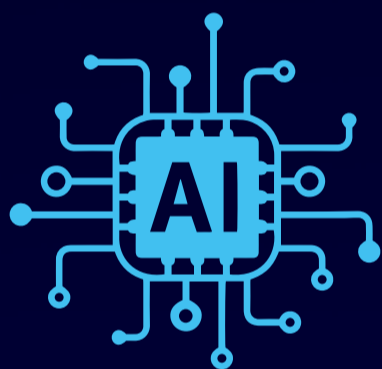

Fee earner

60%

legal professionals are happy to work alongside robotic technology if it means fewer manual processes

Source: Legal Futures

AI firms aim to predict case outcomes with 80-90%

accuracy

Source: VentureBeat

£1.7 billion

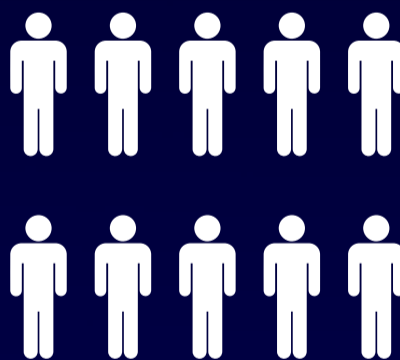

a year – estimated productivity boost that digital technology could bring to the legal sector

Source: LawtechUK

The projected value of chatbot market in 2032 is

$4.9 billion

Source: Globe News Wire

10 data scientists

hired by global law firm DLA Piper in 2023 to launch its AI practice

Source: Financial Times

Nobody can say exactly what the AI future looks like for law firms. However, we can say that if you're trying to become more efficient, more compliant, and more profitable, the tools are here already.

We've worked with over 1,000 firms, so if you're trying to improve your firm's performance, call 01252 518939 for a no-obligation discussion to see what you could improve.

INSIGHT LEGAL

A Dye & Durham Solution